— SPARKLING WINE —

For more than a two decade, the House of Arras has been identifying and developing the ideal vineyard sites for world-class sparkling wine. This journey has led the House of Arras to call the ancient soils and cold climate of Tasmania home. Its climate is significantly cooler than the mainland, with long summer daylight and maritime influences, which are Ideal conditions for long, slow and consistent fruit development.

2008	Arras Grand Vintage	Chardonnay Pinot Noir	140

The appearance is crystal clear with an ultrafine and persistent bead, medium straw with a bright yellow gold lustre. The bouquet expresses an enticing aroma of grapefruit, jasmine flowers, sea brine and lychee. The palate has great elegance and poise with complex nuances of exotic spice, truffle, meringue and natural yoghurt.

On the palate, bright sand fresh strawberry fruit dominate the initial flavour rush, which gives away to complex secondary characters of truffle and yeast. This wine has great structural elegance with an impeccable balance of tannin natural acidity and dosage.

A true prestige cuvée based on attributes of pristine Chardonnay and Pinot Noir from the finest Tasmanian vineyards, crystal clear in appearance with an enticing fine and persistent bead. This wine is medium deep straw in colour with a fresh gold hue. The bouquet displays lifted nuances of brown lime, butter biscuit and oyster, whilst the palate reveals a complex flavour profile, exhibiting characters of honey, nougat, sourdough toast and truffle. A richly flavoured and intriguing palate with a strong natural acid backbone, elegant structure and great persistence. The wine retains a brilliant freshness and vibrancy the hallmark of the House of Arras.

— SPARKLING WINE —

The climatic conditions of the Jansz vineyard rival the famed French wine region of Champagne. In fact, it was originally with French contribution that Jansz became Tasmania's first sparkling made using the traditional Méthode Champenoise. Today we call it, Méthode Tasmanoise. It's the essence of a partnership between the environment and our winemaker. Just as the cool Tasmanian climate creates spectacular beauty in nature, it is also instrumental in the creation of art in bottles.

2011	Jansz Blanc de Blanc	Chardonnay	125
2010	Jansz Blanc de Blanc	Chardonnay	135

A beautiful complex and layered wine. Pale gold in colour with an exceptionally fine bead. A nose of truffles, delicate toast, Amaretti biscuits and white chocolate with a refined palate of nougat and roast almonds.

2014	Jansz Rosé	Pinot Noir Chardonnay	97
2013	Jansz Rosé	Pinot Noir Chardonnay	105

The pale colour resembles pink diamonds. Powerful aromas of toasted brioche, quince blossom and rose petals. A beautifully rich palate of vibrant red fruits and Turkish delight, creaminess and a touch of fine tannin set up a mouth-watering finish.

Gorgeous yeast ageing greets the nose along with toast, brioche and cream, whilst the tongue embraces quince, honeysuckle and classic notes of ripe lemon. Expect a hint of strawberry and rosewater from the Pinot Noir, too.

2007	Jansz Late Disgorged	Chardonnay Pinot Noir	130

"If ever a new winery was born with blue blood in its veins, Tolpuddle would have to be it." James Halliday Australian Wine Companion 2014

Tolpuddle Vineyard was established in 1988 and it took its name from the Tolpuddle Martyrs: English convicts transported to Tasmania for forming an agricultural union. The leader of the Martyrs, George Loveless, served some of his sentence working on a property near Richmond, part of which is now Tolpuddle Vineyard.

The vineyard is planted with mature Chardonnay and Pinot Noir vines, facing north-east, and sloping gently up from Back Tea Tree Road. The soil is light silica over sandstone and of moderate vigour, ensuring well-balanced vines producing grapes of great flavour and intensity.

In 2016 Tolpuddle Vineyard won the inaugural Tasmanian Vineyard of the Year award, reflecting the performance of this unique and distinguished site.

Martin Shaw and Michael Hill Smith MW purchased the vineyard in 2011 and are fully committed to seeing Tolpuddle Vineyard recognised as one of Australia's great single vineyards.

PRIVATE CELLAR OF PETER ALTHAUS - DOMAINE A | STONEY VINEYARD

When one speaks of pioneers of the Tasmanian wine industry, it has to be said that Peter Althaus and his wines are a significant chapter of that story.

Peter and Ruth Althaus, are Swiss natives who packed up their entire lives and travelled the world searching for the perfect location to create Bordeaux style blends. After discovering Stoney Vineyard in the heart of the Coal River Valley, they took what was initially a 1.5 acre block to the 12 hectares they now have under vine, 75% of which is Cabernet Sauvignon grapes.

A large part of Peter's decision-making process was the mixture of truly unique and ancient soils at Stoney Vineyard, founded on 200-million-year-old Jurassic Dolerite. Domaine A lies on a north facing slope, that enjoys a temperate maritime climate and extended sunlight hours. It is situated in a rain shadow with prevailing westerly weather patterns, plus dry, northerly summer/autumn winds that accentuate the ripening process.

LARK WHISKY

The vision of producing Tasmanian malt whisky was born on a trout fishing trip in the highlands of Tasmania. Bill's father-in-law, Max, produced a wonderful bottle of single malt, and as they enjoyed a drink in the park at Bothwell, surrounded by Georgian buildings, barley fields and the gentle flowing of the Clyde River, Bill remarked to Max, "I wonder why there isn't anyone making malt whisky in Tasmania". Lark Distillery was the first licensed distillery in Tasmania since 1839. It was established in 1992 by Bill Lark, who is known as 'The Godfather' of Tasmanian whisky.

Lark Single Malt Classic Cask | 43%

30 | 30ml

Lark Single Malt Whisky at 43% ABV is the flagship product of the Lark Distillery. It is distilled with Tasmanian (Franklin) barley, malted at the Cascade Brewery. The whisky is double distilled in locally crafted copper-pot stills and aged in small, 100 litre oak casks.

Nose: Golden syrup and vanilla with hints of oranges and grapefruit. Plum pudding, Christmas cake, cinnamon sticks and nutmeg

Palate: Sweet vanilla transforms into a heady combination of orange peel, butterscotch, cloves, nutmeg and grapefruit.

Finish: Butterscotch and citrus notes.

Lark Single Malt | Cask Strength | 58%

40 | 30ml

Nose: Cinnamon, nutmeg, liquorice and orange peel soften to vanilla, butterscotch and balanced oaky aromas. These develop further into furniture polish, Tasmanian peat smoke and grapefruit .

Palate: Intense vanilla and Christmas cake sweetness is integrated with the characteristic citrus and butterscotch flavours expected from a Lark single malt whisky. The palate is rich with stewed fruits and maple syrup ,with complex citrus and spices before giving way to oak and stewed fruits.

Finish: Citrus, spices and toffee notes linger and develop into a warming finish that stays long after the last sip.

Lark Single Malt | Distiller's Selection | 46%

35 | 30ml

Nose: Beautiful bourbon cask nose with confectionary sweetness, fruits and some slight mineral saltiness.

Palate: Very delicate and light, but silky and subtly sweet.

Finish: Light and surprisingly long. Dry oak with some nice peat and ongoing confectionary creamy sweetness.

LARK WHISKY.*Lark Distillery | The Wolf Release | 54%*50 | 30ml

A unique exchange of ideas, passion and casks. Lark Distillery whisky casks were carefully selected by our friends at Wolf of the Willows decanted, and sent on a journey across the Bass Strait. Filled with the Wolf's Imperial Johnny Smoked Porter and left to age, they worked their magic before being emptied and returned to Tasmania, to be refilled with Lark single malt whisky. The result is the Wolf Release: a unique single malt whisky that reflects an adventurous and collaborative journey.

Nose: A faraway grass fire leads into sweet pineapple and charred lemon. Varnished oak drives into toffee apple with a heavy cocoa chocolate.

Palate: Liquid lychee paves the way for kiwi fruit and raspberry jubes. The fruits develop into a milky banana milo, brewed over a campfire.

Finish: Strong American Oak vanilla evolves to honeycomb enveloped by chocolate, which lingers before transforming into dark chocolate with hints of smoke.

LARK WHISKY - The Revolution Release | 25th AnniversaryLark The Revolution Release RR03 | Markers Mark - Bourbon Cask | Light Peat | Cask Strength | 62.30%*60 | 30ml

Nose: Cherries and dark chocolate develop into Christmas cake, orange, lemons and mandarins, finishing with smoke and applewood. A beast!

Palate: The palate follows the nose with black cherries and citrus, candied oranges and lemon. Toffee and vanilla notes are topped with sweet coffee and marmalade.

Slight saltiness leads into a long, orangey finish.

Finish: Oranges, marmalade, grapefruit and tannin. A massive citrus bomb.

Nose: Heady aromas of grapes, pineapple and orange drift upwards. Blackcurrants, mandarin, dried apricots, strawberries and apples complete a huge fruit salad.

Vanilla custard is drizzled on top.

Palate: Fruits evolve into jelly beans. Vanilla, grapefruit, raspberry, chocolate, spearmint and lemon-flavoured jelly beans with the odd marshmallow.

Finish: Oak, smoke and vanilla.

Lark The Revolution Release RR07 | Seppeltsfield - Port Cask | Light Peat | Cask Strength | 65.00%60 | 30ml

Nose: Citrus on butterscotch. Plum pudding, peat smoke and ash hide behind a body of oranges, ANZAC biscuits, cherries, maple syrup and butter.

Palate: Port, peat smoke, orange oil and caramel are engulfed by dark chocolate and cinnamon spice.

Finish: Port, oak and peat. Robust.

SULLIVANS COVE

Sullivans Cove | French Oak Port Cask HH385 | 47.5%

125 | 30ml

Nose: Full, rich dark chocolate with cinnamon, orange peel, hazelnut and liquorice mint.

Palate: Rich and sweet front palate with flavours of chocolate, pepper, toffee and fruitcake.

Finish: Long, lingering finish of dried dark fruit and dark chocolate.

Sullivans Cove | American Oak Bourbon Cask TD0060 | 47.5%

45 | 30ml

On 29th November, 2005, a 300L American Oak Barrel labelled TD0060 was filled with malted barley spirit distilled from the highest quality Tasmanian ingredients.

A decade later we are now ready to experience the first whisky to be both distilled and bottled under the current ownership of Tasmania Distillery.

Exhibiting trademark distillery characteristics of sweet malt and vanilla, this particular single cask bottling shows a rich and integrated complexity beyond its years.

While both spicy and sweet upfront the long, lingering and balanced finish slowly gives way to a milk chocolate-like lushness.

Limited Release — only four hundred and ninety two individually-numbered bottles exist.

Sullivans Cove | French Oak | Australian Chardonnay Cask TD0202 | 47.5% | 10YO | Special release

145 | 30ml

Nose: Bright with fresh green apple, vanilla, vine flowers, rolled oats and fresh oak.

Palate: Outstandingly textural with great grip, lively tropical fruits, honey and fresh herbs.

Finish: Warm buttered scones and soft lingering oak

OVEREEM WHISKY

Old Hobart Distillery is a family-owned business. Casey Overeem's interest in the industry started back in the early 1980s when he had his first experience of distilling at a relative's house in Norway. "Many people had micro-distilleries in their cellars and I really admired them, so I started experimenting when I got home," said Casey. After much research, realisation dawned that Tasmania offers the perfect climate and ingredients for the production of single malt whisky. Following years of research and experimentation, Old Hobart Distillery secured a distiller's licence in 2005.

The Tasmanian Collection is a set of exceptional limited edition single cask whiskies blended from nine Tasmanian distilleries including Sullivans Cove, Lark, Overeem, Belgrove, McHenry, Redlands, Mackey, Iron House and Fanny's Bay.

In 2015 nine members of the Tasmanian Whisky Producers Association each donated twenty-litres of new make spirit to be expertly blended at Tasmania Distillery. The resultant spirit was then used to fill eleven purpose built casks, coopered and donated by Adam Bone of Tasmanian Cask Company.

A filled cask was then sent back to each distillery for maturation on site. The Tasmania Collection is a snapshot in time of the skills of the Tasmanian whisky industry, which perfectly captures the unique terroir and subtleties gained from maturation in distinctly different surroundings.

SPRING BAY DISTILLERY

Spring Bay Distillery is a new world distillery that leans heavily on tradition. Located on Tasmania's east coast, the flavour of our local sea salt makes its way into the rainwater we use for our products making our spirits sweet with a subtle maritime influence.

We use only the best ingredients and distil these in a 1200 litre copper pot still from renowned still maker Peter Bailly of Knapp Lower Still Makers. Our declining line-arm on our still ensures we capture oils from the spirit distillation. Our rich spirit therefore has a beautiful mouth feel.

MACKEY WHISKY - SHENE ESTATE

Mackey Whisky is triple distilled and unpeated (as are most Irish whiskeys), and Damian Mackey is the only Tasmanian distiller emulating the Irish style.

To date, a small number of casks have been released.

Shene Estate Distillery, established in 2014, is the most recent string to Shene's bow. Damian Mackey, head distiller, is of Irish stock, and he and wife Madeleine have been making whisky at Mackey's Distillery, for the past decade. Damian caught the distilling bug from old mate Bill Lark, for whom he worked as a young surveyor back in the early 1990s when Bill and Lyn, the pioneers of Tasmania's whisky industry, were starting off. In 2007, Damian established his own brand, and Mackey Whisky, released in 2015, is currently the only Irish-style whisky in production in the state.

NANT DISTILLING COMPANY

Just an hour from Hobart is our heartland, the historic Nant Estate (circa 1821). Today it is the proud home to the Nant Distilling Company, producers of the internationally renowned Nant Single Malt Whisky. In 2012, just four years after beginning commercial production, Nant Single Malt Whisky was catapulted to global renown when Jim Murray, the world's foremost whisky commentator, scored Nant Single Malt Whisky – American Oak Bourbon Wood 95.5 out of 100. This rarest of scores saw Nant rated among the top 50 whiskies in the world. 'Nant', meaning 'stream', was the name given by the first Welsh settlers to both the Valley and the Estate. This very stream meanders through Nant Estate and flows into the millpond; that powers the wheel that turns the stones that grist the malted barley – that also gives its name to Australia's only Highland Single Malt Whisky.

Both a source of power and a key ingredient in Nant's success, these pristine waters trace their source upstream to the river Clyde, which is fed from a million-year-old glacial lake in the mystical Tasmanian Highlands.

Since 1992 when the law was changed to allow for the first modern day distillery, Hobart has been home to a growing number of producers. Launceston Distillery is the first traditional whisky producer in Launceston to gain a production licence since the Caledonian closed nearly 180 years ago.
